Dear Judge Poppiti:

We write on behalf of Hartford Computer to share the concerns and positions set forth by Sony and Apple in their letters dated September 12, 2008. Three years ago Hartford Computer identified the suppliers of the LCD modules included in its accused products--AU Optronics, All Around Co., Ltd. and Picvue. AU Optronics was voluntarily dismissed on April 3, 2006. Based on the docket, it does not appear that All Around Co., Ltd. and Picvue have ever been served, and certainly have not participated in the instant litigation.

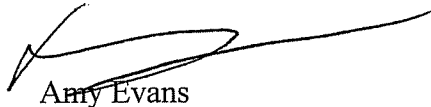

To the extent Hartford Computer is not dismissed from these proceedings, it would be difficult, if not impossible, to meaningfully participate in supplemental Markman proceedings as to modules and manufacturers that have never been the subject of discovery, or even infringement contentions by Honeywell. Accordingly, Hartford

Computer respectfully requests that it too be dismissed on the same grounds as those set forth in Sony's and Apple's letters of September 12, 2008.

Counsel is available at the Court's convenience to address any questions or concerns.

Respectfully submitted,

Amy Evans
